

NORTH CAROLINA ALLIANCE FOR HEALTH

Dues-paying members are a core part of the North Carolina Alliance for Health. They have a voice and a vote in a state-level policy priority agenda setting process, they have additional opportunities to learn and network, and they influence state-level policy through our collective power.

Membership Agreement

Members are asked to make a serious commitment to the NCAH by actively participating in the following ways:

- To the extent possible, the provision of in-kind services.
- Attendance at NCAH committee meetings.
- Active participation in at least one NCAH committee. Committees will provide the primary opportunities to contribute to the development of policy positions and strategies as well as organizational structure and process. NCAH members are encouraged to participate in as many committees as they have time and resources to devote, though members are expected to participate in at least one policy committee, as the coalition's focus is on policy advocacy.
- When relevant, support and promote NCAH's policy priorities and/or policy positions, including promotion through your network, such as via e-mail listservs, newsletters, etc.
- Permission to use your name on all NCAH documents and in connection with actions/policies approved by members. Members who would not like their name printed on NCAH documents may submit a written request to the NCAH Executive Director or Grassroots Coordinator.
- Adherence to NCAH's operating guidelines that include the following:
 - We will strive to make our decisions by consensus.
 - If consensus cannot be achieved, decisions will be made by a majority vote of eligible NCAH members present and voting. Eligible NCAH members are those in good standing, who have submitted a membership survey and paid dues.
 - Each eligible NCAH member, whether an individual or organization, in attendance at meetings will have a right to share views and vote.
 - All persons in attendance may choose to abstain from voting when appropriate.

Membership Revocation/Withdrawal: Any member who fails to meet the membership requirements or is determined to have a material and/or perceived conflict of interest with the mission or goals of the NCAH may be removed at any time by the Board of Directors. Any member being considered for removal may request a vote on the matter by the full NCAH membership, which may make a recommendation to the Board.
