

Access to Healthy Food

North Carolina voters recognize that childhood obesity and a lack of access to healthy foods present a problem for many across our state. As a result, there is strong bipartisan support among registered voters for the Healthy Corner Store Initiative.

of North Carolina registered voters strongly support a Healthy Corner Store Initiative

Here's what NC voters say:

90% think childhood obesity & unhealthy diet are serious problems

76% feel the government should offer incentives for stocking healthy food

74% say a Healthy Corner Store Initiative would be effective

Additionally...

affordability is seen as the most significant barrier to improving access to healthy foods

lack of nutritional education is also considered a significant barrier

North Carolina Alliance for Health